

INTERNATIONAL THERAPIST FAIR

On the 12th and 13th of November 2016, Vitae attended the International Therapist fair in Holland. The International Therapist fair and as "Natural Health Meeting Point" shows many facets on how professionals are acting responsibly with health of our body, mind and soul. Companies and organizations International Therapist give significant meaning to the spectrum of health experience: an integral oriented approach to health and health issues. Visitors of the fair are therapists, paramedics, doctors, retailers, educators and students, other professional and interested people with genuine interest in natural health. While the interest in natural health is undergoing a revival, we see more and more mainstream doctors linking to the parameters of prevention and a healthy lifestyle. And fortunately, they have the belief that natural health has nothing to do with anti-intellectual or anti-scientific methods. On the contrary natural health has a strong objective basis, like any other natural philosophy by definition. Health is a balance of considering all aspects: physically, socially, emotionally and spiritually. This requires an awareness that focuses on "healthy" behaviors, knowledge, insight, motivation and probably inspiration.

Vitae, because health is more than just the absence of illness!
